

Dual Credit Course Offerings
Spring 2024
Winthrop University & Florence One

How many classes can I take?

- Students can enroll in up to 10 credit hours per semester

When are classes offered?

- Students can take online (asynchronous or synchronous) Winthrop courses. Online courses will be completed via Winthrop’s Learning Management System, Blackboard and Zoom.
- For online synchronous courses, look under the “course times and instructional styles” column. You will see a section number, day(s) of week and time.
  - M: Monday, T: Tuesday, W: Wednesday, R: Thursday, F: Friday

	WU Course	Description of Course	Course times and instructional styles	Credit Hours
1	ANTH 201: Introduction to Cultural Anthropology	Description: An exploration of cultures throughout the world stressing variability in family, political and economic patterns, religion and world view. Notes: Offered in fall and spring. Global perspective, Social Science	Online: 005	3 credit hours
2	BIOL 150: Elements of Living Systems and BIOL 151: Elements of Living Systems Lab (3228)  *Will select a time for your lecture (BIOL 150) and a time for your lab (BIOL 151)	Description: A course for non-science majors that introduces the unifying principles of biology. The course will cover various levels of organization from molecules to ecosystems. Topics include ecology, energy use and acquisition, biodiversity, evolution, genetics and cells. Notes: Offered in fall, spring and summer.	BIOL 150: Online 001 005  No online lab offering for Spring 2024	3 credit hours

3	BADM 180: Business Careers and Professional Development	Description: An introduction to business careers and the tools needed to obtain internships and jobs in those specific fields. Professional development and financial literacy is incorporated. This course will serve as a foundation for a student's business education. Notes: Lab Fee: $20. Offered in fall, spring, and summer.	Online: 003	3 credit hours
5	ECON 103: Intro to Political Economy	Description: Designed for non-business majors, the course uses basic economic concepts to explore a variety of current issues. Topics such as unemployment, inflation, education, healthcare and pollution might be discussed along with the constitutional foundation of the U.S. economy.	Online asynchronous: 002	3 credit hours
6	ENGL 208: Foundations of World Literature	Description: A survey of representative foundational major works and authors that characterize earlier world literature, including the Ancient, Medieval, and Renaissance periods, and chronologically comparable non-Western works. Notes:	Not offered in the Spring 2024 semester	3 credit hours

		Offered in fall, spring and summer. Prerequisites: WRIT 101.
7	HIST 112: World Civilizations from 950-1750	Description: A survey of major civilizations of the world from about 950 to about 1750. Notes: Offered in fall, spring and summer.	Not offered online Spring 2024	3 credit hours
8	HIST 113: World Civilizations since 1750	Description: A survey of major civilizations of the world since about 1750. Notes: Offered in fall, spring and summer.	Online asynchronous: 002	3 credit hours
9	HIST 211: United States History to 1877	Description: A survey of political, diplomatic, economic, social, intellectual and ethnic developments through Reconstruction with attention to development of the Federal Constitution. Notes: Offered in fall, spring and summer.	Not offered online Spring 2024	3 credit hours
10	HIST 212: United States History since 1877	Description: A survey of political, diplomatic, economic, social, intellectual and ethnic developments since Reconstruction with attention to development of the Federal Constitution. Notes: Offered in fall, spring and summer.	Not offered online Spring 2024	3 credit hours

11	NUTR 221: Nutrition	Description: Basic nutrition concepts applied to the needs of individuals, families and communities. Notes: Lab Fee: $10. Offered in fall, spring and summer.	Online asynchronous: 001, 002	3 credit hours
12	MATH 151: Applied College Algebra	Description: A study of the algebraic skills needed to perform computations in applied settings. Topics include: equations, inequalities, functions, graphs, and financial mathematics. Notes: Lab Fee: $15. Offered fall, spring and summer.	Online asynchronous: 001, 004	3 credit hours
13	MATH 101: Algebra and Trigonometry for Calculus	The study of algebraic and trigonometric skills needed for single variable calculus. Topics include equations, graphs, polynomial and rational functions, exponential and logarithmic functions, and trigonometry. Notes: Lab Fee: $15. Credit will not be allowed for MATH 101 and MATH 104. Offered in fall, spring, and as needed in summer. Prerequisites: Satisfactory score on Mathematics placement exam or a C- or better in MATH 151.	Not offered online Spring 2024	3 credit hours
14	MATH 150: Intro to Discrete Mathematics	Description: A study of basic skills and applications necessary for critical thinking in a quantitative world. Topics include: sets, logic, counting, probability, and	Online asynchronous: 005, 007	3 credit hours statistics. Notes: Lab Fee: $15. Offered in fall, spring and summer.

15	PLSC 201: American Government	Description: National governmental institutions and the political processes which shape public policy. Meets state requirements for course on the U.S. Constitution. Notes: Offered in fall, spring and summer.	Online asynchronous: 007 006	3 credit hours
16	PSYC 101: General Psychology	Description: A survey of the major areas of psychological science. Core topics include human social behavior, personality, psychological disorders and treatment, learning, memory, emotion, motivation, human development, biological influences, and research methods. Notes: Offered in fall, spring and summer.	Not offered online Spring 2024	3 credit hours

17	READ 290: Children's Literature	Description: This course will provide students with an overview of children's literature from early 20th century to the present. Literary genres, oral traditions, aesthetic values, and appreciation of human diversity will be emphasized. Notes: A grade of "C" or better must be earned, and this course cannot be taken as S/U. Lab Fee: $15. Prerequisite: EDCO-175: Teacher Cadet	Online asynchronous: 001	3 credit hours
18	READ 330: Foundations of Literacy for Early Childhood and Elementary Students	Description: This course will provide students with foundational knowledge in the nature and progression of literacy development across the early childhood and elementary years. Notes: A grade of "C" or better must be earned, and this course may not be taken as S/U. Offered in spring, and summer. Prerequisite: EDCO-175: Teacher Cadet	Hybrid: 001-MW 11:00-12:15pm 002-MW 12:30-1:45pm	3 credit hours
19	SOCL 201: Principles of Sociology	Description: Introduction to the perspectives, approaches and basic concepts used in the sociological study of human social behavior. Notes: Offered in fall and spring.	Online asynchronous: 001	3 credit hours
20	SPCH 201: Public Speaking	Description: An introduction to principles and procedures of speech communication with emphasis on speech preparation, delivery, and evaluation. Notes: Lab Fee: $5. Intensive Oral Communication course. Offered in fall, spring and summer.	Online asynchronous: 001, 002, 004, 006  Hybrid: 007-MW 2:00-3:15pm 008-MW 3:30-4:45pm	3 credit hours
21	WRIT 101: Introduction to Academic Discourse	Description: Introduces students to college-level, thesis-driven, research-based writing. Focus on planning, organizing, and developing persuasive essays through the critical reading of mature prose texts. Emphasis on mastery of MLA documentation format and proper integration of source material. Notes: Offered in fall and spring. A grade of C- or better is required. Lab Fee: $5	Online asynchronous: 003, 005	3 credit hours

22	WRIT 201: Creative Writing	Description: Various special topics and trends at the introductory level in creative writing and writing studies. Several different topics may be offered in a single semester. Students may count 3 hours of WRIT 200 toward the major. Prerequisite: WRIT 101. Notes: Course may be repeated for a total of 6 credits. BA-ENGL majors may count 3 hours of WRIT 200 toward the major. Students may take this course more than once only if course covers different subject matter and/or format. Offered periodically.	Not offered in the Spring 2024 semester	3 credit hours
----	----------------------------	--	---	----------------