

Path to Undergraduate Research Experiences: Department of English Research Continuum

	Introduction to research skills and experiences	Beginning research experiences	Advanced research experiences
Curricular opportunities at Winthrop	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> WRIT 102, CRTW 201 ENGL 200 Literature surveys: ENGL 203, 208, 211 Intro to the major: ENGL 291 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ENGL courses above 299, especially ENGL 300, 305 Honors sections of various courses 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> 500-level literature and WRIT courses, especially WRIT 500 Honors Thesis
Co-curricular opportunities at Winthrop	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Visiting writers' series Public readings for WRIT 307, 316, 507, 516 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Annual Graduate/Undergraduate Research Conference (scholarship, creative writing) Showcase of Undergraduate Research and Creative Endeavors Working in the Writing Center Working on The Anthology 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> McNair Scholars Program Internships in professional writing
Off campus opportunities	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Annual trip to American Shakespeare Center in Staunton, VA National Council of Teachers of English trip 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Big South Undergraduate Research Symposium National Conference on Undergraduate Research Sigma Tau Delta Conference Southeastern Writing Center Association Conference Other regional and national undergraduate and professional conferences 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Hurley Fellowships for summer or semester study abroad The Oswald Review Sigma Tau Delta's two journals

Since undergraduate research is labor- and time-intensive, participation in certain programs may be limited.

Students interested in participating in formal research experiences are encouraged to take ownership of their own development as scholars and to take advantage of all of the resources available to them. Students who are interested in getting involved in undergraduate research in English should contact Dr. Casey A. Cothran at cothranc@winthrop.edu, Bancroft Hall 246, 803/323-4573. See <http://www.winthrop.edu/undergradresearch/> for more information about Undergraduate Research at Winthrop University.

Submission to the abstract book is normally for scholarly and creative work that has been accepted for presentation at a conference or for publication in a journal or on a non-personal website. Exceptions may include, but are not limited to, extraordinary work produced in courses or for internships. Work produced in Winthrop's general education core courses is normally not suitable for submission to the abstract book.