  - a. Committee on Undergraduate Instruction:
  - b. General Education (William Seyfried):

The General Education committee met on Thursday, September 23 and approved the following proposal & submits it for consideration to Academic Council:

Departments should evaluate the courses under their purview in the articulation agreement with the two-year colleges in South Carolina so as to recommend which courses should be considered as satisfying the relevant area(s) in the General Education program and which should not (note: only transfer courses that do not already transfer in as an equivalent course at Winthrop should be considered). The recommendations should be submitted to the General Education committee for its approval no later than November 1, 2004. This does not alter the writing component required by the General Education program (recall the rules pertaining to transferring in of courses for General Education credit that do not have a writing component). The course numbering of the transfer courses will be determined by the departments in consultation with the Registrar's office. When a course does not fall under the purview of a particular department, the General Education committee will exercise jurisdiction over the course. A similar approach should be applied to all relevant articulation agreements.
